

R 5600.2 STUDENT DISCIPLINE/CODE OF CONDUCT - MIDDLE SCHOOL

Effective citizenship requires a spirit which balances freedom for the individual with responsibility for society. In order to develop this understanding and protect everyone in the society, procedures are established within any community. The approach to discipline balances individual privileges with the needs of the educational family. Policies are designed to help each pupil understand the value of acting in a responsible way. If behavior becomes irresponsible, an effort is made to help the pupil find better ways to reach goals, while also developing an understanding of the consequences of actions. The goal is to develop intellectual ability and social responsibility in all pupils. Disruption and interference with the education of others, a lack of respect for the rights or properties of others, and an inability to do as directed are examples of behavior necessitating action.

A. Purpose

The Student Code of Conduct and this Regulation are established to achieve the following purposes:

1. Foster the health, safety, social, and emotional well-being of students;
2. Support the establishment and maintenance of civil, safe, secure, supportive, and disciplined school environments conducive to learning;
3. Promote achievement of high academic standards;
4. Prevent the occurrence of problem behaviors;
5. Establish parameters for the intervention and remediation of problem student behaviors at all stages of identification; and
6. Establish parameters for school responses to violations of the code of student conduct that take into account, at a minimum, the severity of the offenses, the developmental ages of student offenders and students' histories of inappropriate behaviors in accordance with N.J.A.C. 6A:16-7.2 through 7.8, as appropriate.

B. Expectations for Academic Achievement, Behavior, and Attendance

All students have a responsibility to comply with State statutes and administrative codes for academic achievement, behavior, and attendance, pursuant to N.J.A.C. 6A:32-8 and 13.1.

C. Behaviors That May Result in Suspension or Expulsion

In accordance with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 18A:37-2, any student who is guilty of continued and willful disobedience, open defiance of the authority of any teacher or person having authority over the student, the habitual use of profanity or of obscene language, or who shall cut, deface or otherwise injure any school property, shall be liable to punishment and to suspension or expulsion from school. Conduct which shall constitute good cause for suspension or expulsion of a student guilty of such conduct shall include, but not be limited to, any of the following:

1. Continued and willful disobedience;
2. Open defiance of the authority of any teacher or person, having authority over the student;
3. Conduct of such character as to constitute a continuing danger to the physical well-being of other students;

5. Taking, or attempting to take, personal property or money from another student, or from the student's presence, by means of force or fear;
6. Willfully causing, or attempting to cause, substantial damage to school property;
7. Participation in an unauthorized occupancy by any group of students or others of any part of any school or other building owned by any school district, and failure to leave such school or other facility promptly after having been directed to do so by the Principal or other person then in charge of such building or facility;
8. Incitement which is intended to and does result in unauthorized occupation by any group of students or others of any part of a school or other facility owned by any school district;

9. Incitement which is intended to and does result in truancy by other students;
10. Knowing possession or knowing consumption without legal authority of alcoholic beverages or controlled dangerous substances on school premises, or being under the influence of intoxicating liquor or controlled dangerous substances while on school premises; and

2. Education that supports students' development into productive citizens;
3. Attendance in safe and secure school environments;

- H. Chart of Student Discipline

Discipline Guidelines

Discipline problems will be treated with positive methods before more punitive measures are found necessary. It is intended that consequences, when assigned, will encourage improved student behavior.

Should a student show improvement by not repeating an offense for one semester in any of the following listed areas, disciplinary action taken in a given area may revert back to the previous penalty administered by school authorities. Please note that this applies only to the following sections/infractions: Section A, Section B, and Section C.

In areas not specifically covered by the discipline policy, punishment will be administered at the discretion of the administration. Administrators may change a Detention to a Restricted Study, or Restricted Study to an Out-of-School Suspension at their discretion, based upon the circumstances of the infraction. Additionally, all consequences listed in sections A, B, C and D of the discipline policy may be subjected to administrative interpretation.

The administration shall keep a file on a student who has violated the rules. It shall be the responsibility of the administration to see that, for each subsequent infraction, a concise account and record shall be communicated to the home in order to keep the parent informed of any change in the student's status.

Any student who accumulates a total of ten (10) discipline referrals in a semester (i.e., Semester 1 - September to January; Semester 2 - February to June) will be suspended out of school, pending a mandatory parent conference.

Any student who accumulates a combination of ten (10) or more days of Detention, Restricted Study, or Out-of-School Suspension will not be permitted to attend any school function (including all dances and school trips).

Students who are suspended (either Restricted Study or Out-of-School) are immediately excluded from all student activities and/or functions for the duration of the suspension; this includes attendance, as well as active participation. Eligibility for attendance or participation will be restored when the student is re-admitted to school or regular classes. Example: A student is suspended at the close of school on Thursday for one (1) day. That student is then immediately prohibited from attending all school activities until reinstated to school on Monday.

However, scheduling a student to serve a suspension in Restricted Study many times requires a one or two day delay. Therefore, in an effort to provide consistency of punishment, the exclusion for extra-curricular activities or curricular functions which take place after regular class hours shall begin immediately upon suspension, and will continue for the length of suspensions in spite of the fact that the student may continue to attend regular classes.

Eventually, the student will serve the suspension in the Restricted Study room. Example: a student is suspended on Monday afternoon for two (2) days in Restricted Study but cannot be scheduled in the Restricted Study room until Thursday or Friday. That student is excluded from all extra-curricular activities and curricular activities which take place after regular school hours immediately on Monday and will regain eligibility for such activities on Thursday morning (two school days from time of sentence), despite the fact that he/she has not yet served the suspension from regular classes as yet. This same prohibition would be in place for all weekend activities if the days of suspension include a Friday.

If the number of times a student commits an offense is greater than the number listed on the Code, that student shall be suspended out of school pending a conference with the Superintendent.

Note: If there is a difference in interpretation of a student offense between the administrator and the reporting staff member, a private conference will be held between the administrator and staff member prior to the consequences being administered to the student.

2. MAKE A CONCERTED EFFORT TO LEARN INFORMATION PRESENTED AND COMPLETE ALL LEARNING ASSIGNMENTS

Academic Integrity & Plagiarism

All Clearview Regional High School programs require high standards of academic integrity. All forms of dishonesty whether by act or omission, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism and knowingly furnishing false information to the school district are prohibited.

Students at CRHS are explicitly taught how to integrate secondary source material into original works. CRHS currently relies upon the conventions of the Modern Language Association whose approach requires students to parenthetically document resources. This approach is supported by the Media Center and in all disciplines. Some teachers also expose students to the conventions of the American Psychological Association (APA) or the newer Chicago format, usually expected in higher education.

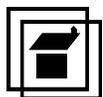

Students who plagiarize an original composition (research paper, literary analysis, science lab, news journalism, and other compositions) will receive 2 days of Detention for the offense. Teachers may use their discretion to determine if a secondary assignment will be provided.

Cheating can also take the following forms; cheat-sheets, crib-sheets, answers written on pencils, hats, notebooks, appendages (arms, legs, hands), calculators, or when students rely upon the utilization of cell phones, text-messaging or listening devices (MP3 player, iPods, laptops) to copy and transfer information while completing an assessment is not ethical. Likewise, the sharing of answers during assessment periods via whispering, talking, or due to placement on the desk, constitutes a violation of the ethical code of conduct, as does the sharing and subsequent copying of homework assignments.
